122. Comments

1. There is a glaring lack of active, in class participation from most students. I was often left feeling like a "know-it-all" or an annoyance because other students would not let themselves be drawn into conversation in small group discussion or class wide discussion. I found this at all levels of my education here. There is also a rampant issue with technology use among students in class, in that students engage in unrelated, distracting phone and laptop usage during lectures. Again this occurred at every level, intro elective, to specialized major requirements. I strongly considered transferring to a top level college where students compete to speak in class because it is my belief that there is great value in having multiple, diverse view points expressed actively and continually in class and I do feel that I was short changed in growth because of the lack of free flowing communication about course material during class time.
2. For the overall commitment of this school and its staff and faculty, I can only say my sincere thank yous for educating me over these past 4 years and I will take what I have learned here into my employment. Thank you FSU.
