122. Comments

- My experience with Fitchburg State was overall unpleasant. A large part of it was due to my advisors. Unfortunately I may have just seen the worst of the worst, I never had an advisor for long I attended 5 semesters at FSU and had 4 advisors. My first advisor meeting was the most shocking thing I had ever experienced, it was condescending and dismissive to my priorities and needs. FSU is catered to young adults only.
- I did not understand how inconvenient the class times were for a commuter who works full would be, because if you are working on your Bachelors you have to take classes during the day. If I had known then what I know now I would not have attended FSU at all. The psychology degree was impossible to complete due to classes being unavailable. I finished a different degree program, Interdisciplinary Studies that most likely will do nothing to advance my career but show that I got a bachelor's degree where many jobs require that as a minimal qualification to apply. My actual education at FSU was not the problem. The teachers are great and the classes were important. I do value my education. I think that FSU problems are outside the classroom,
- Today I would never recommend this school to a commuter and I hope this comment will make some changes and start the conversation about being a convenient and flexible college in the future, either by offering more classes' online or evening classes for people completing their bachelors. Also, I hope that all professors that also have to do advising be trained in some fashion to show sensitivity and respect to their advisees that not everyone coming to the school is 18 and living on campus, but even if the fit that description there life may involve many other challenges and priorities.
- My work has helped pay for school over the last 8/9 years part time
 - I loved going here. Everyone who works here is incredibly nice and helpful. I felt like they wanted me to succeed. I tell everyone who is applying for college to go here. Thank you for a wonderful experience.
 - I love FSU and am so grateful for all the wonderful staff here who made college such a great experience.
 - Best experiences with Dr. Murray & Dr. LaFrance (Education Department), all professors in the English department, Maryann Barbato & Jenn Berg (math department), & EVERY employee encountered in the registrar's office.
