Lapidus recognized as Distinguished Citizen

President Lapidus was honored in September as one of 2023's Distinguished Citizens by the Heart of New England Council, Boy Scouts of America. The award was presented at the organization's annual award dinner on Sept. 28, where Leominster Credit Union President and CEO Barbara Mahoney was also recognized.

The Heart of New England Council has honored a number of leading corporate and community leaders with the Distinguished Citizen Award. The Distinguished Citizen is chosen for his/her long standing commitment to our local communities. Their efforts have helped improve the quality of life for thousands of people who are less fortunate. Their tireless leadership, energy and vitality have been a true inspiration to all who serve within numerous charitable organizations. The values learned through the Boy Scouts are much the same as the values held by our Distinguished Citizen – good citizenship, outstanding moral fiber with a dedication to other, and for living their lives by the Scout Oath and Law.

Celebrated musician presents West African kora performance on Oct. 16

The campus will host a kora performance by internationally renowned composer, musician and educator John Hughes at 4 p.m. Monday, Oct. 16 in the main lounge at Hammond Hall. Admission is free and open to the public.

The kora is a West African stringed instrument with origins dating back at least to the 13th century. Hughes, who has released six albums of original music, has studied the music, song and dance of West Africa for more than 28 years, training with numerous master drummers and dancers from Guinea and Mali. His musical style crosses cultural boundaries and fuses disparate influences.

The performance at Fitchburg State is made possible with the support of the Newman Center Trust Fund and in collaboration with the university's English Studies Department and Professor Kisha Tracy, Humanities Department Associate Professor Amy McGlothlin and Associate Professor Jonathan Harvey.

In the Hammond Hall Art Gallery: Faculty Show opens Oct. 23

The annual Faculty Show will be on display in the Hammond Hall Art Gallery from Oct. 23 to Dec. 15. The opening reception will be held at 3:30 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 26 at the gallery, followed by a film/video screening at 4 p.m. in Ellis White Lecture Hall.

The gallery show will feature work by faculty members Sarah Bromberg, Petri Flint, Jason Flynn, Robert Harris, Jon Krasner, Hanna Melnychuk, Sally Moore, Andrea Olmstead, Jessica Robey, Britt Snyder, Donald Tarallo, and Jeff Warmouth. The film screening will include work by faculty members Rachelle Dermer, Robert Harris and Kevin McCarthy.

Now on display through Oct. 15, see powerful drawings inspired by the war in Ukraine in artist Hanna Melnychuk's exhibit "Don't Close Your Eyes."

Melnyczuk began creating these drawings upon Russia's invasion of Ukraine in an attempt to show her personal attempts to process what is happening to the country her parents left in 1944. Influenced by her work on children's books, the images in this collection show her struggle to understand the unfathomable acts of war that fill her mind.

Melnyczuk held a gallery talk last week; see photos from the event on the Burg Blog.
