- National Association for the Education of Young Children (NAEYC)
- The Council for Exceptional Children (CEC)

Facilities

One unique feature at Fitchburg State University is the McKay Arts Academy, a Fitchburg Public PreK-8 school. This school provides opportunities for candidates to observe and teach what they learn from their coursework in a public school classroom on campus. Thus, enhancing their understanding of Educational theory and making the connection to practice.

Field Experiences and Student Teaching

One of the main reasons for the success of Fitchburg State graduates is our strong network of placement schools that provides both urban and suburban, field experiences and student teaching sites for teacher candidates. These field experiences begin in the freshman year and continue until student teaching in the senior year.

Clubs, Organizations and Other Activities

There are many clubs and organizations in the Education Department such as the Education Club, and a student chapter of Kappa Delta Pi (KDP), the international education honor society. The Fitchburg State KDP chapter and its faculty advisors are a seven time winner of the National Achieving Chapter Excellence (ACE) award recognized for their quality of work. The clubs and organizations in the department provide students a variety of professional and social opportunities.

Results

While most of our graduates find work in public or private schools, educational collaboratives, and preschool and day care programs, others work in residential programs, rehabilitation facilities, adult services, and corporate education programs.
