Established in 1894 by an act of the Massachusetts Legislature, the State Normal School in Fitchburg opened in temporary quarters in the old high school building on Academy Street. Principal John G. Thompson, aided by a teaching staff of three, implemented a two-year teacher training program for women that had 46 participants. In December 1896, the school expanded into a new building, known as Thompson Hall, and set up the State School of Observation and Practice in city buildings on Day Street and Highland Avenue.

In the next decade the school was a trendsetter for programs in education. The Edgerly School opened, originally as an eighth-grade model and practice school. In 1910, it became one of the first junior high schools in the United States. The following year the school initiated the first practical arts teacher training course in the country for men.

In 1930, the State Normal School was authorized to offer a bachelor's degree in practical arts, and in 1932, when it became the State Teachers College at Fitchburg, four-year degrees were offered in all areas of education.

Under the auspices of the State Division of University Extension, summer courses were first offered in 1915, marking the beginning of the university's commitment to Continuing Education programs. In 1935, the college was also authorized to establish graduate programs and in 1954 the first evening courses were offered.

In 1960, the college changed its name and expanded its mission. The State College at Fitchburg diversified its programs to include degrees in disciplines other than education. In 1965, its name was officially changed to Fitchburg State College. In July, 2010 the governor signed legislation renaming us Fitchburg State University. Within our 15 academic departments, we offer more than 30 degrees, 75 concentrations, and 54 minors, as well as three certificate programs at the undergraduate level. At the graduate level, we offer more than 22 master's degree programs, and over 40 concentrations. In addition, we offer seven Certificate of Advanced Graduate Study programs, four post Baccalaureate certificate programs, and 14 graduate-level certificate programs. The campus has expanded from a single structure on High Street to 45 buildings on 278 acres of which 113 acres make up the main campus, becoming the educational center for the Montachusett region. The University proudly offers traditional and non-traditional programs to serve the educational needs of its students as undergraduate, graduate, and continuing education students.
Fitchburg State University is one of nine comprehensive state universities in the Massachusetts higher education system; and like its sister institutions, the university’s governance procedures and organizational structure are largely mandated by either state law or collective bargaining agreements.

Governance Structure

The Department of Higher Education has responsibility for all of the state university system. Fitchburg is one of the nine state universities, which also includes Bridgewater, Framingham, Salem, Westfield, Worcester, Massachusetts College of Liberal Arts, Massachusetts College of Art and Massachusetts Maritime Academy.

Each state university has a Board of Trustees, which assists the president with the running of the university. Trustees are appointed by the Governor of Massachusetts for five-year terms, renewable once. No member may serve for more than two consecutive terms. One trustee slot is reserved for an alumni member of the university and one slot is reserved for a student representative and is elected annually by the students at each university.

The Massachusetts State University Association/NEA Collective Bargaining Agreement for faculty and librarians (MSCA) agreement specifies the duties and responsibilities of the All University Committee (AUC) and its standing sub-committees, the Curriculum Committee, Academic Policies, and Student Affairs. The AUC maintains a website which identifies the procedures and forms for consideration such as policy changes, new courses, etc. Any member of Fitchburg State University may initiate a proposal. An archive of AUC proposals that have been approved is maintained by the library and can be searched online at https://www.fitchburgstate.edu/academics/academic-affairs-division/shared-governance/all-university-committee.

The AUC faculty members are elected for two-year terms each spring semester. Faculty members on the standing sub-committees are appointed for one-year terms by the Executive Committee of the MSCA. Faculty may self-nominate for committee appointments by presenting their name and interest to the MSCA office.

The Graduate Council is also outlined in the MSCA contract and carries governing responsibilities in relation to curriculum and policy of graduate programs. Faculty members are selected using the same process as membership for AUC. https://www.fitchburgstate.edu/academics/graduate-academics/graduate-continuing-education-division/sgoce-faculty-resources/graduate-council.
Faculty participate in many university events annually to celebrate student and faculty achievements including those noted below.

Graduation
Fitchburg State University currently holds commencement ceremonies in December for both graduate and undergraduate students, as well as two ceremonies in May, one for graduate and one for undergraduate students. Per the MSCA contract, faculty members and librarians are expected to attend the graduation ceremonies to celebrate the accomplishments of the students. Faculty members are part of the academic processional. Academic regalia may be purchased or rented through the Fitchburg State University bookstore. In addition, the university confers degrees and awards diplomas on August 31 each year, without a ceremony.

Convocation
In April each year, Fitchburg State University celebrates student achievements with a Convocation. Per the MSCA contract, all faculty members and librarians are required to attend and to participate in the academic processional.

Undergraduate Research Conference
Each year, Academic Affairs and the Student Government Association hold the Fitchburg State University Undergraduate Conference on Research and Creative Practice. The conference takes place on Convocation Day in late April. The conference consists of presentations by Fitchburg State students from all departments to promote both creativity and scholarship. There is significant involvement with the Fitchburg State faculty as both sponsors and judges of the work.

Development Days
The university hosts three annual faculty development days that are part of the academic calendar and considered instructional days. The programming for these full day events held in September, January, and May include important campus updates and professional development in a wide variety of areas.

Celebration of Faculty Excellence
Annually the university celebrates faculty achievement and success as part of a luncheon program during the May Development Day. The four prestigious faculty awards for teaching, research and scholarship, contributions to graduate programs, and service are announced and presented. In addition, faculty receiving tenure and promotion as well as faculty retiring are recognized and celebrated.
Please note as classes begin, if you need to be absent from class any time during the academic year to observe a religious holy day, please inform your department chair in advance.

Faculty Center for Teaching and Learning

The Center for Teaching and Learning (CTL) is located on the second floor of the Amelia V. Gallucci-Cirio Library. In addition to a Coordinator, The Center includes faculty leads to support programming and resources for advising, inclusive excellence, and the general education curriculum. The Center hosts a wide variety of professional development opportunities for full-time, tenure-track faculty and librarians and part-time adjuncts. The university dedicates the All University period on the third Tuesday of each month for CTL programs. Faculty peers assist other faculty in their efforts to develop a positive teaching and learning environment. The Center sponsors a faculty speakers series, innovative teaching grants to encourage the use of experimental teaching methods in the classroom, demonstrations of the latest technologies, summer institutes, travel grants, as well as a host of pedagogical workshops. The Center also coordinates the new faculty and librarian mentorship program.

Rationale for Syllabus Guidelines

The New England Commission of Higher Education (NECHE), the university-wide accrediting agency for Fitchburg State, and secondary accrediting bodies [e.g., Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology (ABET), Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education (CCNE), Council for Accreditation of Educator Preparation (CAEP), Council for Standards in Human Service Education (CSHSE) and International Accreditation Council for Business Education (IACBE)], are focusing on and requiring significant commitment to assessment of all aspects of university academic programming. Assessment of academic programs and courses at all levels cannot proceed without first identifying suitable goals, defined as broad statements of program and course purposes, as well as measurable objectives/ outcomes. The guidelines will serve as part of Fitchburg State University's commitment and ongoing efforts to improve academic quality. Both the undergraduate and graduate syllabus guidelines have been approved through governance.

School of Graduate, Online and Continuing Education Faculty

Every semester and not later than the first class meeting, each faculty member shall provide a syllabus for each course being taught to the Graduate Program Chair/Undergraduate Program Manager, the Dean of Graduate and Continuing Education and each student. The undergraduate syllabus guidelines for Graduate and Continuing Education are the same as those for the undergraduate day division.

Academic Integrity Policy

Fitchburg State University addresses plagiarism and academic dishonesty through a variety of methods. The university has an Academic Integrity Policy found at the following link: https://www.fitchburgstate.edu/student-support/office-student-affairs/student-conduct-and-case-management/academic-integrity-policy. Faculty have the option to utilize the Turnitin system on Blackboard (it also can be used independently from the LMS). Turnitin is a plagiarism prevention and online grading resource with features such as OriginalityCheck, GradeMark, and PeerMark. See Appendix D (Pg. 56) for a copy of the Academic Integrity Policy.

Textbooks

Faculty members can order textbooks online by logging into your Blackboard account. Once there, you will find under the “Tools” section: Follett Discover. Type the password, which is 0163, then complete the information requested to submit your order. You will immediately receive an email acknowledgement and summary of your order submission. Orders can be placed 24 hours a day, and faculty can also designate their texts as available for rental. Ordering textbooks after mid-July for the fall semester will not guarantee availability on the first day of class. For more information on how to order textbooks, or to speak with the bookstore directly, please contact the bookstore at (978) 665-4026 or bookstore@fitchburgstate.edu.

Fitchburg State welcomes the use of open educational resources (OER) to reduce learning-related costs for students. For more information, contact the Open and Affordable Education Committee, chaired by Library Dean Jacalyn Kremer @ jkremer@fitchburgstate.edu.
Class Rosters

Your class rosters are always available and up-to-date on Banner Web4, which is accessible from your office or your home. There are two rosters available to choose. One roster provides more detail and includes the student's major while the other is a list of all the names. You will also use Web4 to post final grades as well as to get information about the student advisees who are assigned to you. Class roster are also available in SSC Navigate, through which you can email and text students, as well as report deficient midterm grades. In addition, upon request, your department administrative assistant has the access to run a class list using Crystal reporting, which includes a photo of each student enrolled in your class, and also includes the student's preferred name.

Course Enrollment Caps and Instructor Permission

Course enrollment caps are determined by a combination of factors including laboratory safety, machine limits, pedagogy and need. During registration, all students register for classes on Web4 if the course is open. When classes are closed, instructors MAY add students to their courses. This process is often referred to as giving a red card. For School of Graduate, Online and Continuing Education courses, priority is given to students on the waiting list.

Logging into Online Class/Grade Rosters

- Open your browser on your computer.
- Enter the following URL into the address bar: web4.fitchburgstate.edu and press the enter key on your keyboard.
- Click on Enter Secure Area.
- All faculty who have accessed Faculty Services at least once (to obtain class rosters, enter grades, etc.) should use their existing User ID – Banner ID preceded by the @ sign (ex.@00010000), or Social Security number (ex. 000010000) and enter their existing PIN (Personal Identification Number).
- If you are using Web4 for the first time:
  - In the User ID space, enter your Banner ID number (your ID number is located on your OneCard ID) or your SSN. If neither of these options work and you do not yet have your OneCard ID, please contact IT Services at 978-665-4300 to obtain your secure PIN. Click on Login.
  - Enter your secure PIN (if you have not accessed your online records before this will be your birth date – mmddyy). If neither of these options work, please contact IT Services at 978-665-4500 to obtain your secure PIN. Click on Login.
- You will immediately be told that your old PIN has expired. You must re-enter your old PIN (mmddyy). Next, you will be instructed to choose a new PIN. Your PIN must be exactly 6 characters (numbers or letters or both).
- Once you have entered the new PIN twice, you will then be asked to create a question and response to help you remember your PIN should you forget what it is. The new PIN will be the one you will use to access your online records in the future.
- Click the Faculty Services tab or Faculty & Advisors link.
- Click on Term Selection – (ex. Fall 2021). Click on Submit.
- Click on Final Grades.
- Select each course, enter student’s final grades and click on Submit. For courses with more than 25 students, be sure to look at the Record Sets just above the Submit button near the bottom of the screen. For these courses, you will need to click on the second record set (26-33, for example) to enter and submit grades for the other students in the course whose names are not displayed on the first page of the class/grade roster.
- To print your class/grade roster: click on the print icon in the toolbar at the top of the screen. To exit, click on the exit button at the top of the screen.
- To enter your grades: select the appropriate grade for each student listed in the grade column. When finished, click on Submit. Your grades will be immediately submitted.

NOTE: You will only be able to enter grades in the Grade column if you are listed as the primary instructor for the course. If you are not able to enter grades, contact the Registrar’s office at 978-665-4196 so that we may list you as the primary instructor. Any grade changes can be made online until grades are rolled (i.e. moved to student’s permanent record). If they have been rolled, changes must be made in writing to the Office of the Registrar.

- If a student is not listed on your grade roster, it means that the student is not officially registered. The student will need to receive the dean’s approval to register late for the course. The grades for these students must be submitted in writing.
- Rolled grades will immediately be viewable to students online.
- If your PIN does not work, or you have forgotten it, please contact IT at (978) 665-4500.
- If you have problems finding your course, please contact the Registrar’s Office at (978) 665-4196 or registrar@fitchburgstate.edu
- Hours of Operation: Monday through Friday: 8:00 a.m. – 5:00 p.m. The Registrar’s Office is open until 6:00 p.m. during the first week of each semester.
Grading Policy
The grading policy for undergraduate students and graduate students can be found in the Fitchburg State University catalog http://catalog.fitchburgstate.edu/ and in Appendix E.

  - Click Submit (bottom of roster) on each page.
  - For courses with more than 25 students: be sure to look at the Record Sets near the bottom of the screen, above the Submit button. For these courses, you will need to click on the second record set (26 – 33, for example) to enter and submit grades for the other students in the course whose names are not displayed on the first page of the class/grade roster.

Notes:
- If you are team teaching a course but are not the primary instructor, then the course will not appear on your drop-down list.
- If your course is cross-listed, you must enter grades for each course CRN separately.
- Only grades that are valid for that particular student's level will appear in the drop-down list.
- Please do not make any entries in the “Last Attend Date” and “Attend Hours” columns.
- You must click Submit at the bottom of the roster after you have entered EACH PAGE of your grades, otherwise, the grades will disappear.
- Once you have entered and submitted your grades, they will pop into your class roster. We suggest printing a copy of your class roster with the final grades for your files.
- Students will NOT see their final grades as you enter them. However, after processing, all grades that you have submitted will be visible as soon as the registrar rolls the grades to academic history, so students may be contacting you shortly thereafter.

- For security purposes, you will be logged off the Final Grades page after 60 minutes of inactivity. You must then exit Web4 for Faculty and log in again using the instructions above.

Deficient Mid-Term Grades
Fitchburg State University has a system of deficient “mid-semester” grade reporting for undergraduate students. Faculty members are asked to submit grades for those who may be less than a 2.0 by the Friday before advising begins for the next semester. The purpose of this system is to provide formal feedback to students at a point in the semester where meaningful intervention by the professor, academic success areas and others can be accomplished. It also aligns with the advising period prior to registration allowing advisors to view deficiency grades in DegreeWorks. Faculty will receive an email with instructions for submitting deficient midterm grades through SSC Navigate. Faculty and students are reminded of the following:

- While voluntary, all faculty members are encouraged to submit deficient mid-semester grades.
- The grades listed are only progress estimates for this point in the semester.
- The grades are not part of the student’s official record. Only final course grades are recorded.
- The deficient mid-semester grade is meant to inform students of their progress to date so that, if necessary, they can seek assistance.

Grade Changes
All faculty members are expected to submit grades online in Web4 Faculty Self-Service. If a faculty member needs to change an IN grade to a letter grade, they can email the change directly to registrar@fitchburgstate.edu. These changes will be accepted from a FSU email account only. No department chair or dean approval is required.

Grade changes for day, GCE, and extended campus courses, including 0.0 grades that occur within one semester following the semester in which the grade is being changed, do not require dean approval but still require department chair approval. Faculty can either mail their department chair the grade change request, and ask that the chair forward their approval to registrar@fitchburgstate.edu. Any department chair needing to make a grade change on one of their own courses will need the approval of their academic dean.

Grade changes that extend beyond the timeline as outlined above require academic dean's approval.
Final Exam Policy and Final Grades

Fitchburg State University has a final exam week scheduled in each semester during which all finals must be held. Faculty members who have final projects in lieu of final exams are expected to meet with their students during the regularly-scheduled final exam time. No finals may be given during the last week of classes.

Per university policy and the MSCA contract, final exam days are part of the official minimum 155 instructional-day calendar. As such, faculty are to meet with their classes during the time scheduled for the final exams regardless of whether an exam is administered. If a final exam is included in your syllabus, it must be administered as scheduled. However, all classes must make use of this instructional day even if it is not to take an exam. Furthermore, final exams are considered a “peak period” and faculty are asked to maintain at least the minimum of regular office hours in order to assist students.

An exam week is not held for Graduate and Continuing Education courses. For those courses, exams are administered during the final class meeting.

Make-Up Examination Policy

With the consent of the faculty member, a make-up examination may be administered to a student who has missed a scheduled examination for a valid cause. The faculty member sets the time and place of the make-up examination after discussion with the student. If a faculty member does not allow make-up exams, it should be stated in the syllabus.

Both faculty members and students should remember that all work in a course must be made up in time for the instructor to submit a change of grade within four weeks from the beginning of the following semester. Incomplete grades (IN) are changed to 0.0 unless the instructor submits a properly completed grade change form to the registrar’s office within the appropriate time frame. Instructors may assign an incomplete grade (IN) at their discretion, but only in those cases when it is mathematically possible for a student to pass the class with a 1.0 or higher, on successful completion of the incomplete work. An instructor will initiate the incomplete grade process with the student by filling out an official “incomplete grade form.” Instructors will indicate on this form the graded assessments of course content that must be completed and the grade the student will receive in the event that they are not completed. This information will be shared with the primary academic advisor.

Instructors will assign a deadline for completion of the work no later than the last day of classes of the next semester. If the student does not complete the work, the grade indicated on the “incomplete grade form” will be assigned. Extensions may be granted through the petition process.

Student Attendance Policy / Registrar Requests for Attendance Checks

There is no university wide attendance policy at Fitchburg State University. Faculty may establish reasonable attendance policies for their own classes and must explain those policies in their syllabi.

In the event that illness or some other emergency prevents a student from attending class, the student should contact the instructor directly. This matter is left to the individual instructor, who may or may not view irregularities in attendance as serious enough to affect the student’s grade. Students should follow the instructor’s attendance policies on the course syllabus and whenever possible, notify instructors by email when they will be absent from class or other class-related activities. Students are encouraged to reach out to their instructors in order to determine the process for making up any missed assignments.

If there is anticipated prolonged absence, such as a medical procedure or activated military duties, the Office of Student Affairs should be contacted at 978-665-3130 or studentaffairs@fitchburgstate.edu.

Whatever an instructor’s attendance policy, Institutional Research will ask the instructor for an attendance check right after the add/drop period to determine whether a student has ever attended each of his/her classes. This is used to determine that the registrar’s record of class rosters is correct. You will receive an email with instructions on how to submit your attendance through SSC Navigate.

Classroom Location

In order to assure maximum utilization of the space currently available at Fitchburg State University, classrooms are auto assigned by the Events Management System (EMS) through the Registrar’s Office for all classes. Instructors may not move their classes or switch rooms with a colleague without the consent of the Registrar’s Office. Requests for change of rooms will be considered, and are based upon the availability of classroom space. The registrar may change room assignments after the beginning of a semester, for extenuating circumstances, to accommodate a student or a faculty member with a documented disability. The instructor will be notified via email of such changes.
It is vitally important for both security and legal purposes that faculty do not make room changes without prior approval. We must be able to locate students and faculty in the event of an emergency. If your class is moved and you are unable to reach either the Registrar’s Office or the Office of Graduate and Continuing Education, notify the University Police at (978) 665-3111 as to your whereabouts.

Laboratory Safety Policies

Fitchburg State University has policies governing the use of chemicals, sharps, biohazards, and protection from exposure to blood borne pathogens. Each policy provides guidelines and regulations for the use or handling of particular hazardous substances. All Fitchburg State faculty members are required to follow these established policies in their classrooms and research laboratories. The policies require that both faculty members and students be given mandatory training prior to laboratory instruction or research. Fitchburg State University maintains an Office of Environmental Safety and Risk Management within the division of Finance and Administration to assist faculty with adherence to these policies and oversight of training. All questions and requests for copies of each policy should be directed to your Dean or the Department of Environmental Safety and Risk Management at (978) 665-3756.

Responsible Conduct in Research, Animal Use and Human Subjects Research

Fitchburg State University has policies regarding Responsible Conduct in Research, Animal Use and Care and (via the Institutional Animal Care and Use Committee), Human Subjects (via the Institutional Review Board). These policies apply to faculty, students and staff working on research projects whether funded or not. Links to specific policies and procedures are found in the Responsible Conduct in Research section of this handbook. For more information, please go to: https://www.fitchburgstate.edu/offices-services-directory/grant-center/.

Liability Insurance

Fitchburg State University maintains liability insurance for students and faculty supervisors participating in internships, clinicals, and practicums in many disciplines. The liability insurance is based on course numbers and every student taking the course or faculty supervisor is covered. Agencies sometime request copies of the insurance binder, which may be requested from the Office of The Provost.

Using Technology in the Classroom

Fitchburg State University’s mediated classrooms are equipped with tools designed to improve the classroom experience. All classroom spaces come standard with a ceiling-mounted projector, Windows computer for instructor use, speakers, Apple TV and a Blu-ray player. Document cameras are also available in many classrooms, and select classrooms have a SMART Board.

For more information about available technology in the classrooms, please refer to the Classroom Technology Guide. The IT Department offers free training for any technology throughout the year, link to Technology Training Page: https://www.fitchburgstate.edu/campus-life/campus-services/technology/technology-training. You can also schedule a personal training session by contacting the Help Desk at 978-665-4500.

Blackboard

Blackboard is the learning management system provided by the university. It may be used to provide supplementary materials to a traditional brick and mortar classroom, or in place of some classroom time in a hybrid class, or as the basic platform for an online course. A Blackboard site is created every time a course is scheduled with the registrar. Technical training on the use of Blackboard is provided by Information Technology, and pedagogical support is provided by the Office of Digital Learning. (https://blackboard.FitchburgState.edu/webapps/portal/frameset.jsp).

Faculty Instructional Videos

A number of self-help training videos are available to assist Fitchburg State faculty in implementing instructional technology in their courses. These include overviews and specific tips and how-to’s for: Blackboard, our course management system; Zoom, a web conferencing software, and clickers, aka “classroom response systems,” a tool that enables instructors to gather from and share with students responses to questions during class, helping each to monitor the progress of student learning. (http://www.fitchburgstate.edu/academics/graduate-online-continuing-education/online-learning/distance-online-learning-faculty-resources/).
Fitchburg State University uses the Google G-Suite Enterprise for Education Suite which provides communication and collaboration tools for learning in real-time, on any device. Visit https://www.fitchburgstate.edu/offices-services-directory/technology/google/ for information, resources and videos about any of the Google tools available including Gmail for your University email, Google Calendar for meetings and appointments, Google Meet for video conferencing, Google Chat for communication, and Google Docs, Sheets and Slides for presentations and much more.

Visit our email page for step-by-step instructions on how to access your university Gmail account.

Check out Gmail FAQs and Google Calendar FAQs for answers to a variety of Gmail and Google Calendar questions.

Fitchburg State University uses the TK20 direct assessment tool from Watermark Insights to gather and assess student work. TK20 is linked directly to Banner and Black Board for ease of use. Department Chairs and/or Program Coordinators can identify how TK20 is being utilized to assess program and course Student Learning Outcomes (SLOs) in your discipline. More information and Quick Guides on how to conduct assessment in TK20 are located on the Assessment page of the Office of Institutional Research and Planning website. https://www.fitchburgstate.edu/about/campus-planning-and-policies/assessment/watermark-insights-tk20

Online courses are those in which 100% of the course’s instructions are conducted in distance mode. Another course delivery option is hybrid (blended) courses; hybrid courses are those that combine classroom and online methods, and deliver at least 50% of the course’s content online.

Both online and hybrid courses must go through the university’s approval process. Course developers must create their online course materials in accordance with requirements and guidelines, which satisfy or exceed the various accreditation criteria of the New England Commission of Higher Education.

These guidelines as well as the approval process may be found at http://www.fitchburgstate.edu/academics/graduate-online-continuing-education/online-learning/distance-learning-faculty-resources/.

Fitchburg State University provides students with the opportunity to earn credits through independent study, directed study and PLA (Prior Learning Assessment). Independent study work allows a student to conduct in-depth work in an area of specialization they wish to pursue. They work directly with a faculty member who has expertise or interest in the specialization area. Directed study is similar but is typically used for non-research projects or activities and may be used in exceptional circumstances to offer an existing course. A Special Studies Form for independent and directed studies is available on the Registrar’s website or from departmental support staff.

Prior Learning Assessment (PLA) can be used by undergraduate students, except for criminal justice majors, who have already acquired knowledge and skills and want to demonstrate these for credit. Students should contact the Registrar’s Office for information. See the catalog for additional information on these alternative ways for students to earn credit and the faculty contracts for the Day division and for GCE for how faculty members are compensated for independent studies and directed studies.

The Director of Digital Learning and the Digital Learning Instructional Designer provide training sessions for online course development, and throughout the development process, course developers have access to training and support in the areas of design and building content within the Blackboard learning management system. Once a course is developed, the designer will maintain intellectual ownership of the course materials while Fitchburg State University will maintain and host the course offering in a Blackboard shell.

More information about online teaching, including an extensive array of support resources, may be found at http://www.fitchburgstate.edu/academics/graduate-online-continuing-education/online-learning/distance-online-learning-faculty-resources/.
University Internship Policies for Undergraduate Students:

In order to qualify for an internship, the university requires that a student must be matriculated and have completed a minimum of 60 credits with at least 12 credits earned at Fitchburg State, and have a 2.0 GPA prior to placement. Individual departments may have additional GPA requirements in the major and other entry requirements. In addition:

- The maximum number of credits a student may earn toward their major through an internship is limited to 12 credits.
- Additional internship credits may be allowed as free electives.
- Internship credit cannot be substituted for core and required courses in any major.
- Students may register for an internship either through sections created for that purpose in the schedule or through the use of a Special Studies Request form.
- No student will intern at a site or with a site supervisor which poses a conflict of interest. Conflicts of interest may include, but are not limited to, supervision by a student's family member, internships doing an existing job, etc. If a current job site is considered, the internship must include tasks outside of the normal job duties so that it is a true learning experience.
- No retroactive credit will be given for internship hours prior to registration.
- All internships, except those occurring with an on-campus sponsor, require an Internship Program Contractual Agreement. The agreement must be approved by an authorized party at Fitchburg State University and the internship site. A copy of this agreement is exhibited in Appendix H. (See pg. 62)

Fitchburg State University Intellectual Property Policy

Fitchburg State University (FSU) encourages students to obtain real-world experience through participation in faculty-approved internships with businesses, governments, non-profits, and other organizations (“Intern Parties”) outside of the University.

FSU also encourages its faculty members to assist students to find and participate in such internships. FSU recognizes that in the course of such internships, various works may be developed or created which could be covered by copyright, trademark, tradename, patent, and other laws applicable to intellectual property (“IP”). It is FSU’s policy that for all internships which are not sponsored or financed in whole or in part by financial grants made available through FSU from third parties, (a) FSU will have no claim of ownership in any such IP and (b) no student or faculty member involved in such internship will have any claim of ownership in any such IP unless otherwise agreed in writing with the applicable Intern Parties and any other persons providing sponsorship or financial support to the internship or Intern Parties.

It is also FSU’s policy that for all internships which are sponsored or financed in whole or in part by financial grants made available through FSU from third parties,

- (i) FSU will have no claim of ownership in any such IP and
- (ii) such sponsor or maker of the financial grant will have ownership of all such IP unless
  - (A) otherwise specified in the sponsorship or grant documentation (copies of which can be obtained from FSU) or
  - (B) otherwise agreed in writing with the sponsor or maker of the financial grant and the applicable Intern Parties, students, and faculty members involved in the internship.

Fitchburg State University hereby advises all students and faculty members who may be concerned about their rights in any IP or other property developed or created in connection with an internship (“Property”) to consult independent legal counsel. FSU will not, under any circumstances, become involved in any determination, mediation, or arbitration of the ownership of rights in and to any Property. FSU will not, under any circumstances, be responsible or liable to any student, faculty member, or any other person with respect to any rights they might have in any such Property, the cost of enforcing or defending their rights in any such Property, their infringement of any other person’s or entity’s rights in any such Property, or the cost of any defense they might raise against any alleged infringement by them of any other person’s or entity’s rights in any such Property.
Faculty Absence

Day Faculty

All faculty members who are forced to be absent from their on-campus classes because of unforeseen circumstances or illness must immediately notify their department chair and the Hammond Hall Information Desk at 978-665-INFO (4636). Students who are registered for your classes will be notified via text and email that you are absent. Faculty members who need to be out of work for an extended period of time (more than 3 days), for any reason, must contact their divisional dean and the Office of Human Resources to make arrangements for their leave. Notice to both departments should be provided in advance of said leave, as practicably as possible. Your dean and Human Resources will then work together to coordinate the requested leave, and apply all applicable policies under the MSCA Collective Bargaining Agreement as well as relevant federal and state regulations.

School of Graduate, Online and Continuing Education Faculty

All School of Graduate, Online and Continuing Education faculty members who are forced to be absent from their on-campus classes because of unforeseen circumstances or illness must immediately contact the School of Graduate, Online and Continuing Education. If an on campus class is to be cancelled, notice is posted in the classroom. Given sufficient advance notice, SGOCE staff will make every effort to contact the students in the class. Notice of cancellations may require approval of the School of Graduate, Online and Continuing Education. Any class that the instructor misses must be made up at a time or in a manner convenient for the students. When making up a class, be sure to check with the Registrar’s Office for classroom availability.

Personal Days

Based on collective bargaining, faculty members employed on January 1 or hired after January 1 but before July 1 in any calendar year shall be credited with two personal days (15 hours) for that calendar year. Faculty members hired on or after July 1 shall be credited with one personal day (7.5 hours) for that calendar year. Faculty members are encouraged to give chairs as much notice as possible of their intention to take a personal day as possible. Personal days must be used during the calendar year or unused days are forfeited on December 31.

Ethical Standards and Guidelines

All faculty members are governed by the State Ethics Commission Guideline and the Collective Bargaining Agreement between the Department of Higher Education and the Massachusetts State College Association and must adhere to the professional standards set forth. Faculty who adopt instructional materials, which they have written, must disclose this use to the Ethics Commission and must complete the forms required. (See Appendix J).
Faculty provide academic advising to students as described in Article XII.3a. Advising loads are determined within the academic departments.

The University’s professional advisors or academic and career advisors, are the coordinators of pre-major students’ educational experience, and they also assist with the advising of all incoming transfer students. Academic (or departmental) advisors handle all students within the various majors. Their relationship is critical to the advisee’s success. Both professional and academic advisors have a variety of advising tools at their disposal. These include a degree planning software system, Degree Works, SSC Navigate and four-year plans of study. Links for the four year plans of study are found on the Career Services and Advising Center’s website: http://www.fitchburgstate.edu/offices-services-directory/career-counseling-and-advising/

Roles and Responsibilities of the Academic Advisor

- Understand the unique nature of the university experience.
- Define values and goals for advisee.
- Explore advisee’s educational/career options, and life goals.
- Plan advisee’s educational program.
- Monitor and evaluate advisee’s educational progress.
- Locate resources to meet advisee’s individual needs.
- Reach out and be available, receptive, and supportive to advisee.
- Maintain an advising file for each advisee.
- Advise course selection during pre-registration and add/drop periods.
- Interpret school and academic policies/regulations to advisee.
- Warn of possible low mid-semester grades.
- Assist advisee with potential Academic Appeals.
- Make advisee aware of Graduation requirements and assist with Graduation application.
- Provide information on advisee’s program requirements and course expectations.
- Provide advisee information on support services and resources.

New Faculty Advising Workshop

All new faculty members attend a workshop on advising during their first semester prior to the first registration session. Information and resources will be presented that will enable academic advisors to work effectively with their student advisees.

Degree Works

Degree Works is an online degree auditing tool which enables students and their advisors to review and monitor academic progress leading to graduation. It organizes academic coursework into blocks to help easily identify courses and requirements that have been completed and what requirements are still remaining to complete the degree. Click here for more information, including instructional videos.

SSC Navigate

SSC Navigate is a comprehensive student advising and communication platform that allows faculty to access key information about, and connect with, both their advisees and their classroom students.

SSC Navigate provides an easy and effective way to schedule appointments for advising period. Faculty also have access to student and course information via an easy-to-use search tool.

Additional information, including instructional videos, as well as a link to the platform can be found at https://www.fitchburgstate.edu/offices-services-directory/institutional-research-and-planning/student-success-collaborative/.
Four-Year Plan of Study

The Four-Year Plan of Study is maintained on the Career Services and Advising Center’s website for all majors. This plan identifies the recommended courses for each major. These are updated annually.

Request for Curriculum Modification or Waiver of Academic Regulation (Student Petition Form)

A Student Petition form is to be used by any student for modification or waiver of a Fitchburg State University academic policy. Such changes are made only in exceptional cases. Each request is considered on its own merits, and approval of a request does not create a precedent. Requests should be initiated by the student, be filled out completely and include all the necessary documentation and recommendations before being submitted to the appropriate Dean. An unofficial transcript should be attached, and signatures should be obtained in the necessary order. These forms are available from the Deans’ offices or from the Registrar’s Office.

Study Abroad Opportunities

Fitchburg State University students have both short-term and long-term study abroad opportunities. Each semester, some Fitchburg State University students study abroad in a variety of countries. Others will take advantage of the summer study abroad programs. The university has offered programs in France, Spain, Germany, Poland, Japan, Costa Rica, Edinburgh, Barcelona, Italy and many other countries.

Faculty-Led Short-Term Programs

A faculty-led study abroad program is one in which a faculty member oversees a study abroad experience for students enrolled in a credit-bearing course. Programs can be designed around an established on-campus course and include an experience abroad or can be an entire course taught abroad. Students enroll in the program and associated course to satisfy a degree program requirement. The faculty-led programs are Fitchburg State courses taught by Fitchburg State faculty and require no transfer of credits.

Please contact the office of International Education (ext. 3089) for additional information on Study Abroad or to talk about being a faculty leader in a study abroad program.

Students with Disabilities in the Classroom

As a public institution, Fitchburg State University is committed to the principles of equity and access. Meeting the needs of a diverse student body often requires flexibility in how we address learners. This does not mean that an instructor is asked to modify the goals or standards of a course, rather that all qualified learners have a reasonable opportunity to access the curriculum.

It is the responsibility of the student to provide the instructor with an Accommodation Agreement to verify that they are registered with Disability Services prior to receiving accommodations. This form indicates that the Disability Services Office has determined that the student does, in fact, have one or more disabilities and that the student is eligible for reasonable academic/environmental accommodations. Please maintain the confidentiality of the student’s disability status.

Once the student has presented an instructor with a copy of their Accommodation Agreement, it is the instructor’s responsibility to work with the student and the Disability Services Office to insure that accommodations are provided in a reasonable and timely manner. Disability Services is available to support faculty in providing any necessary accommodations that a student might require.

Testing Accommodations

Some students who register with the Disability Services Office seek and receive approval for one or more types of testing accommodations (such as extended time on exams, out of classroom testing in the Disability Services Office).

At the beginning of each semester, students who are qualified for testing accommodations will present instructors with The Exam Accommodation Form (Appendix I) which require faculty endorsement. Faculty are asked to complete this form when received and immediately return it to Disability Services with instructions related to their testing preferences. Faculty should keep the copy of the accommodation agreement for their records.

All tests proctored in Disability Services are held to academic integrity policy as outlined in the student handbook and the catalog. A copy of this is also in Appendix D. (See pg. 38)

Please send all exam materials and correspondence as an attachment to testing@fitchburgstate.edu.

Syllabus Statement

One element of Fitchburg State University’s syllabus guidelines, approved through governance, is that faculty provide a statement concerning accommodations for students with disabilities. The Disability Services Office recommends the following statement as a model for syllabi:

“Fitchburg State University encourages the full participation of individuals with disabilities in all aspects of campus living and learning. To support access and inclusion, Fitchburg State University offers reasonable accommodations to students who have documented disabilities (e.g. physical, learning, psychiatric, sensory, etc.). If you require accommodations for this class, please provide me with a copy of your Accommodation Agreement as soon as possible so that we can discuss your specific needs. Any information that you share with me will be held in the strictest confidence, unless you give me permission to do otherwise. If you require academic accommodations but do not have an Accommodation Agreement, please contact Disability Services as soon as possible to establish your eligibility for services.”

For additional information contact the Disability Services Office at (978) 665-4020 or check the office’s website at http://www.fitchburgstate.edu/offices-services-directory/disability-services/.
Faculty Center for Teaching and Learning

The Center for Teaching and Learning is located on the second floor of the Amelia V. Gallucci-Cirio Library. In addition to a coordinator, The Center includes faculty leads to support programming and resources for advising, inclusive excellence, and the general education curriculum. The Center hosts a wide variety of professional development opportunities for full-time, tenure-track faculty and librarians and part-time adjuncts. The university dedicates the All College period on the third Tuesday of each month for CTL programs. Faculty peers assist other faculty in their efforts to develop a positive teaching and learning environment. The Center sponsors a faculty speakers series, innovative teaching grants to encourage the use of experimental teaching methods in the classroom, demonstrations of the latest technologies, summer institutes, travel grants, as well as a host of pedagogical workshops. The Center also coordinates the new faculty and librarian mentorship program.

Center for Faculty Scholarship

The Center for Faculty Scholarship, opened in Fall 2017 in order to facilitate research, scholarship, and creative endeavors by full-time tenure-track or tenured faculty and librarians across all disciplines. Its mission is to create an institution of higher learning that engages in scholarship and that generates knowledge and creativity using the teacher-scholar model, where faculty have access to financial, institutional and/or intellectual support to engage in the generation of knowledge and creativity, and in which students can learn and be inspired by the scholarship of their faculty. The center will be working to increase the visibility of faculty scholarship, celebrate the achievements of faculty members and librarians, provide workshops on grant writing, develop a network of mentors, develop a database of faculty interests and areas of expertise, facilitate collaborative partnerships, provide funding opportunities to support scholarship, and conducting outreach to community partners. The coordinators are Dr. Eric Budd and Dr. Elisabet Takehana, and they may be reached at ebudd@fitchburgstate.edu and etakehana@fitchburgstate.edu.

The Grant Center

The Grant Center maintains a website that helps faculty to identify grant opportunities in their field. The Grant Center also offers grant workshops annually and is available to work with faculty on grants writing and procurement (http://www.fitchburgstate.edu/offices-services-directory/grant-center/). All external funding requests must be reviewed by the Grant Center and circulated for institutional approval prior to submission.

Faculty/Librarian Special Projects Grants

The Faculty/Librarian Special Projects Grants support faculty/librarian scholarly impact by contributing to faculty professional development. The source of funding is from the Office of The Provost. Individuals interested in applying for funding must provide a proposal narrative (5-page maximum) that must include the following components: cover page (with Title and Abstract), background and significance, goals and objectives, description of project, expected outcomes, and project budget page.

Professional Development and Retraining Funds

Funds are available per the MSCA Agreement for voluntary self-identified programs of professional development. Details regarding purpose, process, and timelines can be found within Article XIV of the full-time day faculty collective bargaining agreement at http://mscaunion.org.
Continuing Scholarship Funds

The exact amount of funding in the faculty agreement is determined annually. Once the funding amount is determined, all faculty/librarians receive notification of the funds and the procedures for applying for them.

Douglas and Isabelle Crocker Center for Civic Engagement

Since its establishment in 2008, the Douglas and Isabelle Crocker Center for Civic Engagement, more commonly called the Crocker Center, has aimed to “help local organizations thrive and develop competencies in best practices, empower people to build a better community, and maximize collaboration between Fitchburg State University and the community.” In September of 2015, the efforts of the Crocker Center were expanded to include additional activities focused upon investing in our community and establishing meaningful partnerships between the university and local citizens and organizations. Such efforts include engaging students through civic-learning and community-based research and internships.

The importance of maximizing students’ participation in these high-impact learning opportunities is a strong theme embedded throughout the university’s Strategic Plan.

Undergraduate Dean’s Fund to Support Student Research and Creative Activity

This fund was established to promote original research and creative projects by undergraduate students. Funding can be requested by an individual or team of undergraduate students. The projects must have a faculty supervisor and must be independent of coursework. Funding will not be awarded to any research effort, project, or activity. The maximum award is $150 for an individual or $300 for a team. Contact Student Affairs for more information at studentaffairs@fitchburgstate.edu.

Undergraduate Dean’s Fund to Support Student Travel

This fund supports travel for undergraduate students who are presenting papers to conferences. Funding is limited to $200 per student for domestic travel. Contact Student Affairs for more information at studentaffairs@fitchburgstate.edu.

Purchases

A Request for Purchase form, (Requisition Form) is required for all purchases using departmental funds such as books, software, teaching materials, etc. The department support staff is a very helpful resource for assistance, questions, etc., regarding completion of the Request for Purchase form. The information on the Requisition is entered in Banner at the department level. The Requisition then enters an approval queue for the department chair’s review and approval or disapproval. If approved, the Requisition will be converted to a Purchase Order and sent to the vendor. Fitchburg State University cannot reimburse any purchases made out-of-pocket.

The departmental Pro-card may also be used for low-cost, incidental purchases, as well as travel arrangements, etc. Contact your department chair and support staff for use authorization and details.

Travel AY 2021–2022

As of January 1, 2021, the mileage reimbursement rate decreased to 56 cents per mile for travel occurring in the new calendar year.

Please refer to our Financial Services website for the most current information.

Faculty Awards and Grants

Awards

Each year our community comes together to celebrate our excellent faculty that inspire undergraduates, advance the university’s scholarship mission, mentor graduate students and provide service that helps to strengthen not only our campus, but our immediate community, the Commonwealth and our nation.

We accept applications and nominations for all four of our faculty awards. Awards are presented annually at a faculty event.

Information regarding eligibility, application procedures, and deadlines is provided under each of the four prestigious awards listed.

Grants

Several faculty grant opportunities are announced annually through the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs Office to support faculty in their teaching, research and creative activity. Information on available grants can be found on the Academic Affairs Divisional web page.
Adherence to the highest ethical and moral standards in the conduct of research and scholarly activity is the expectation for all members of the University community. Research is defined by federal regulations as the systematic investigation including research development, testing, and evaluation designed to develop or contribute to general knowledge. University faculty must be aware of their responsibility to refer their projects and their students’ projects to the appropriate review committee and complete the appropriate training. The burden of liability for negligence and harm is placed on both the faculty member and the institution. The Institutional Review Board Policy (IRB), Institutional Animal Care and Use Committee (IACUC), the State Code of Ethics, Institutional Biosafety Committee (IBC), the Chemical Hygiene Plan, and the Exposure Control Plan are designed to protect the faculty member, the institution, and the researched. All faculty who are conducting research under the auspices of the IRB, IACUC, or IBC are required to complete Responsible Conduct in Research Training as well as the appropriate CITI training modules. Specifics on the required training is found on the IRB, IACUC, and IBC websites or in Appendix C4. Responsible Conduct in Research Training is required for anyone receiving federal grant funds. Briefly these policies that affect responsible conduct in research includes:

- Institutional Review Board’s Policy and Procedures Involving the Use of Human Subjects in Research (IRB). The goal of the IRB is to protect the rights and welfare of individuals who agree to participate in research. The IRB is the only body on campus that can evaluate and approve research with human subjects. Review and approval by the IRB is meant to aid both the subjects and the researchers. https://www.fitchburgstate.edu/offices-services-directory/grant-center/human-subjects-committee/

- Institutional Animal Care and Use Committee (IACUC) policies that ensure the humane care and treatment of animals used for teaching and research. http://www.fitchburgstate.edu/offices-services-directory/grant-center/grants-research-animal-care-and-use/

- Financial Conflict of Interest policy (FOCI) that promotes objectivity in research by establishing standards that provide a reasonable expectation that the design, conduct, and reporting of research funded under NIH grants or cooperative agreements will be free from bias resulting from investigator financial conflicts of interest. https://www.fitchburgstate.edu/sites/default/files/documents/2021-01/Fitchburg_State_University_Financial_Conflict_of_Interest_Policy.pdf

- The Chemical Hygiene Plan (CHP) applies to all Fitchburg State University (Fitchburg State) employees (including student workers). The CHP provides a guide to practices related to working with chemicals at Fitchburg State University in teaching and research laboratories as well as any room on campus where chemicals may be used such photographic darkrooms or art studios. The policy provides procedures governing the safe use, purchase, and disposal of hazardous chemicals. Moreover, it documents the required training all chemical users are expected to undergo on a regular basis. Faculty members are expected to comply with the Chemical Hygiene Plan of the University. Failure to do so can result in disciplinary action on the part of the University. https://www.fitchburgstate.edu/sites/default/files/documents/2021-01/Chemical_Hygiene_Plan_2017.pdf

- The Exposure Control Plan eliminates or minimizes occupational exposure and the risk of developing infectious diseases associated with blood and other bodily fluids. This policy identifies those individuals who will face potential exposure, types of blood borne diseases as well as their mode of transmission, methods of implementation, occupation-specific controls, exposure incident and emergency procedures, training, and recordkeeping. A copy of this policy may be obtained from https://www.fitchburgstate.edu/offices-services-directory/grant-center/ibc/.

- The Institutional Biosafety Committee (IBC) governs research and instruction-related activities involving recombinant DNA (rDNA), microbes, human and nonhuman primate materials, and tissues or cells from plant or animals. A copy of this policy may be obtained from https://www.fitchburgstate.edu/offices-services-directory/grant-center/ibc/.

Responsible Conduct in Research Training is required for anyone receiving federal grant funds. Contact the Dean of Health and Natural Sciences for additional information.

Fitchburg Anti-Violence Education (FAVE) is a campus-wide effort to prevent interpersonal and relationship violence and sexual assault, and support to those affected by violence. In collaboration with all University departments and offices, FAVE seeks to create a safe and respectful community for all members by providing educational programming and training opportunities, promoting victim services, and reviewing policy. FAVE originated from a grant from the U.S. Department of Justice Office on Violence Against Women, through the Grants to Reduce Sexual Assault, Domestic Violence, Dating Violence, and Stalking on Campus Program. For more information, contact Amanda Sapienza, LMHC, Coordinator of FAVE, at asapienza@fitchburgstate.edu.

Appendix C4
Responsible Conduct of Research (RCR) Training

The America COMPETES Act of 2007 established new guidelines that require research and education proposals to present a plan for “appropriate training and oversight in the responsible and ethical conduct of research.” Faculty who receive federal funding to conduct research or to supervise student researchers or post-docs are responsible for ensuring all work is done in compliance with Fitchburg State University and governmental policies. All faculty researchers, post-doctoral scholars, undergraduate and graduate students supported by federal funds must be given proper training and oversight in the responsible and ethical conduct of research. This training must take place during the first year of employment or, if the period of employment is less than a year, must take place before the termination of the employment period. The researcher need not complete the tutorials in one sitting, but, again, must complete the course prior to the end of the employment period.

It is the responsibility of the PD/PI to determine what aspects of RCR training are most appropriate for their employees. The National Institutes of Health, for example, suggests that the RCR instructional program include the following topics: conflict of interest, responsible authorship, policies for handling misconduct, policies regarding the use of human participants and animal subjects, and data management. Please note that some federal grantors require researchers to complete training in relevant areas such as Human Subjects or Animal Care and Use. PIs are encouraged to work with Fitchburg State’s Human Subjects Committee or Animal Care and Use Committee in devising their plans, if appropriate.

Since adherence to the highest ethical and moral standards in the conduct of research and scholarly activity is the expectation for all members of the Fitchburg State University community, we strongly suggest that all undergraduates engaged in research with faculty participate in RCR training as well.

Training in Responsible Conduct of Research (RCR)

Fitchburg State University uses the Collaborative Institutional Training Initiative Program (CITI) at the University of Miami to satisfy this education and training requirement. The web-based courses are open to all faculty, staff, researchers, committee members, and students. Courses also exist for any research that requires IACUC or IRB approval.

Fitchburg State University is responsible for tracking and verifying completion of this training for employees on Federal grants. Once the training is complete a copy of the certification should be printed and filed in the Grant Center.

To Enroll in a Course

Go to the CITI Program web page at https://about.citiprogram.org/en/homepage/

New users will begin by creating an account. Information on how to register for the first time may be found at the link below.

https://support.citiprogram.org/customer/en/

Your organization affiliation or participating institution is Fitchburg State University. During the registration process you will be asked to select your role in research. You should select the appropriate level, student or faculty/staff.

The questions in Step 7 enroll you in CITI Program courses. You will be presented with a series of questions or options that enable you to enroll in the Learner Group (course) appropriate to your interests or your role at the University. Select Responsible Conduct of Research from the menu.

- Human Subjects Course
- Animal Care and Use
- Responsible Conduct of Research
- Good Clinical Practice Course
- Health Information Privacy and Security (HIPS)

The next menu will ask if you are a student or a faculty/staff/administrator. Make the appropriate selection.

The page will ask if you want to take the pre-course assessment. This step is voluntary on your part.

The next page is the Main Menu. This page lists the course you have chosen. The Main Menu also provides a number of Learner Tools designed to help you. The CITI website does offer help and explanations for each of the tools if you have questions.

Click the Title of the Course to begin or continue the course. You may complete the modules at your own pace.

Complete the Integrity Assurance Statement presented at the top after clicking a course title. The system will allow you to start taking the course modules after completing it.
Responsible Conduct of Research (RCR) – Basic Course

The basic RCR course covers core RCR topics. It is discipline-neutral, meaning that the course is suitable for any person involved in research, ranging from upper-level undergraduates to established faculty. Particular emphasis is given to the educational needs of graduate students and postdoctoral researchers. You may at times be given an option to take a discipline specific version that you may complete at your discretion.

Complete the Required Modules and associated quizzes. Depending on your discipline specific requirements you may need to complete several Optional Modules.

When you complete all required modules successfully, you may print your completion report through the link: Print Report from your main Menu or your Previously Completed Coursework page.

Appendix D
Academic Integrity Policy

Every member of the Fitchburg State University community is expected to maintain the highest standards of academic integrity. A student shall not submit work that is falsified or is not the result of the student’s own effort. A student who is in doubt regarding standards of academic integrity in a course or assignment should consult the faculty member responsible for that course or assignment before submitting the work. A student’s lack of understanding of the academic integrity policy is not a valid defense to a charge of academic dishonesty.

A student’s name on any written or creative exercise (e.g., examination, report, thesis, theme, laboratory report, computer program, artistic production, etc.), or in association with an oral presentation, declares that the work is the result of that student’s own thought and study. Any work that the student declares as his or her own shall be stated in the student’s own words and produced without the assistance of others. Students must make clear through accurate citations when they make use of other sources. Talking during an examination, or possession or use of unauthorized materials or equipment during an examination constitutes an infringement of the academic integrity policy. Aiding and abetting academic dishonesty also constitutes a violation of the academic integrity policy.

Unless permission is received in advance from the faculty member in charge of the course involved, a student may not submit, in identical or similar form, work for one course that has been used to fulfill any academic requirement in another course at Fitchburg State University or any other institution. A student who perceives the possibility of overlapping assignments in courses should consult with the appropriate faculty members before presuming that a single effort will fulfill requirements of both courses. Students should consult course syllabi for additional guidance on matters of academic integrity.

When an alleged offense of the Academic Integrity Policy has occurred, the following process will apply:

- If the accuser is a faculty member, and s/he decides to make a formal accusation of a violation of the academic integrity policy, the faculty member will provide the student with a letter describing the case for academic dishonesty within fourteen days of discovering the alleged infringement. This letter may be presented to the student in person or delivered to the student’s home, local or campus address or mailbox, or Fitchburg State University email account. The student will either a) agree with the accusation of academic dishonesty and the sanction as imposed by the faculty member or b) disagree with the accusation of academic dishonesty. (A student cannot agree with the accusation of academic dishonesty but disagree with the sanction. Disagreement with a sanction, in other words, is not grounds for an appeal.)
If the student has agreed with the accusation and signed the letter accordingly, the sanction identified by the faculty member will be imposed, and the matter will be considered closed. If the student disagrees with the accusation and again signs the letter accordingly, the student may appeal the matter to the Fitchburg State University conduct board. With all formal accusations of a violation of the academic integrity policy, the faculty member will forward the letter with the student's signature and other relevant information to the Office of Student Affairs. (Proceed to No. 3 below.)

If the accuser is not a faculty member, and s/he decides to initiate the formal process, the accuser must submit a report and/or relevant information to the Office of Student Affairs within fourteen days of discovering the alleged infringement of the academic integrity policy.

Once a case is forwarded by a student or as an appeal (in the form of a report, signed letter and/or other relevant information), the Assistant Dean of Student Affairs, or designee, will review all relevant information and either a) dismiss the incident due to lack of merit or timeliness or b) contact the accused student to schedule a conduct board hearing or when the board is not available, and administrative hearing.

If the case goes to the conduct board, the board will determine whether the student is responsible or not responsible for violating the academic integrity policy. If the student is found responsible, the board will recommend sanctions to the Vice President of Student Affairs, or designee, or, in the case of graduate students, the Dean of Graduate Studies. These sanctions will include those identified by the faculty member and, in the event a student has a prior disciplinary record, may also include the additional sanctions of:

- a grade of zero on the assignment;
- a failing grade in the course;
- suspension from Fitchburg State University;
- dismissal from Fitchburg State University;
- or other sanctions.

In cases of undergraduate student violations of the academic integrity policy, the Vice President of Student Affairs (or designee) will either impose the sanction recommended by the conduct board or determine that the sanction is excessive or inadequate and alter it accordingly. In cases of graduate student violations of the academic integrity policy, the Dean of Graduate Studies (or designee) will take the above action.

The student may make a final appeal only for a sanction of suspension or dismissal.

NOTE: If the student agrees with the academic dishonesty finding by the faculty member, the case will not go before the conduct board; however, if s/he has a prior disciplinary record, the Assistant Dean of Student Conduct may pursue other charges and sanctions once the academic integrity issue has been resolved.

Grade Implications

The grade of 4.0 implies excellence in thinking and distinguished performance within the domain of a subject and course, along with extensive development of a range of knowledge acquired through the exercise of critical thinking skills and abilities. This level work is consistently clear, precise, well-reasoned and displays depth of insight.

The grade of 3.0 implies sound thinking and performance within the domain of a subject and course, along with the development of a range of knowledge acquired through the exercise of critical thinking skills and abilities. This level work is generally clear, precise, well-reasoned and displays some depth of insight.

The grade of 2.0 implies mixed thinking and performance within the domain of a subject and course, along with some development of a range of knowledge acquired through the exercise of critical thinking skills and abilities. This level work is inconsistently clear, precise, well-reasoned and does not typically display depth of insight.
The grade of 1.0 implies limited thinking and performance within the domain of a subject and course, and the student displays limited critical thinking skills and abilities requisite to understanding course content. The student attempts to acquire knowledge by memorization rather than through comprehension and understanding. This level work represents thinking that is typically unclear, imprecise, and poorly reasoned, and does not display depth of insight.

The grade of 0.0 implies poor thinking and performance within the domain of a subject and course, and the student does not display critical thinking skills and abilities requisite to understanding course content. The student relies on acquiring knowledge by memorization rather than through comprehension and understanding. This level work represents thinking that is regularly unclear, imprecise, and poorly reasoned, and is lacking depth of insight.

Professors who assign grades to students using the percentage scale may choose to adjust their scale to accommodate for variations in difficulty of the exam, assignment, or task. In these cases the professor will inform the students of the initial score, the adjusted score, and the reason for the adjustment.

All grades except 0.0, U, IN, IP, W, and AU are passing grades and earn credit toward the degree.

When classes are cancelled at the start of the working day, classes are also cancelled for all on-campus evening programs during that same day. Evening classes taught off campus are cancelled when the specific facility where the class is held is closed.

Weekend and Special Scheduling Courses

The decision to cancel any weekend or holiday class is made by the instructor, who is responsible for arranging a makeup schedule with the students. Students are to consult their instructor for his/her cancellation procedure.

For courses scheduled on weekends, the decision to cancel a course due to inclement weather is made by the faculty member teaching the course. In case of inclement weather, the following steps should be taken:

- Instructor of the weekend course determines whether or not to hold class by 6:30 AM.
- Instructor emails the SOGCE Dean, Dr. Becky Copper-Glenz, and informs her of the decision.
- Instructor is responsible for notifying students in the course if course is cancelled. A student notification method should be determined the first day of the course.

If your student has testing accommodations please click here.

TEST CENTER FACULTY APPROVAL FORM

Planning your curriculum using Universal Design for Learning (UDL) can reduce or eliminate the need for accommodations and is considered best practice, benefiting both students with, and without disabilities. Using principles of UDL such as closed-captioned video and PowerPoint slides, electronically accessible textbooks, and multiple means for student engagement and assessment, you can maximize student participation and remove barriers to learning for those with disabilities.

If you have any questions or would like to learn more about the services that we provide, please contact our office or visit us at www.fitchburgstate.edu/disability.

We look forward to collaborating with you this semester.
