Please provide current and proposed versions

*READ/SPED 9012 The Reading Specialist: Leadership Roles and SPED 9200 Consultation and Collaboration are currently course equivalents. The content has not substantially changed in either of the courses (less than 50%) but the nature of course assignments have changed due to licensure requirements. The courses should no longer be designated as course equivalents.

Rationale and expected outcomes of course change

*The course requirements have changed as licensure requirements have evolved. Students pursuing licensure as a special educator and reading specialist will need to take both courses to fulfill the requirements for each license.

Course Syllabus

A syllabus is required when there is a change that impacts 50% or more of the current course content and curriculum or there is a change to the format of the syllabus that is outside of the University guidelines for graduate syllabi.
